Maritza Coscarelli
Speaker & Entrepreneur

Meet Maritza

Speaker, Entrepreneur, Certified Life & Leadership Coach

Maritza Coscarelli is certain that we are capable of much more than most of us can even imagine. A former professional dancer turned professional certified coach, today she guides leaders to master authentic confidence and communication skills that connect. This is a way to build trust-based relationships that lead to success for all. Maritza is also recognized as a Distinguished Toastmaster, a certified yoga and meditation teacher, a loving wife and mother.

Following her studies at NYU and Eckerd College, she has launched her own successful businesses. Her client roster includes executives and leaders from global organizations like NATO, KPMG, AON and more.

As a Coach Training Alliance Certified Coach, Certified Leader and facilitator of Peopletek Coaching's Leadership Journey she has worked with many individuals and teams, guiding them to master authentic confidence and communication that connect.

Maritza studied Performing Arts at New York University and Human Development at Eckerd College. Having mastered her own unique formula for peak performance from her former life as a professional dancer with Ballet Hispanico and others, today she empowers leaders with skills and tools of greater influence and heart-centered leadership.

She derives deep fulfillment from her family as the proud daughter of Dominican immigrants, the wife of an Italian immigrant, and a deeply devoted mother of two creative young professionals.

Program

Speakers and leaders are not born, they are made.

The skills tools and accessible strategies presented by Maritza for mastering authentic confidence and compelling communication create real results.

When you can bring your whole self to leadership you unleash your maximum creativity, connection, and productivity.

This program is aimed at increasing customer and employee satisfaction, engagement, fulfillment, influence, impact, and sales.

Moving Into Your True Power.

How to bring your whole self to lead, serve & influence with heart.

Imagine having the keys to lead irresistibly, speak compellingly and grow your influence and impact exponentially.

Would you believe us if we told you that you already do?

Once we help you discover these keys, maximize your unique brilliance, and tell your story that is all you will need to connect and convert your ideal audience of one or many.

Testimonials

Ed Lamont

Maritza is a wonder! She brings insightful, real world experience and advice to those she coaches; always with a smile! I've witnessed her leadership, evaluation, and communication skills first hand and recommend Maritza without hesitation.

Lois Margolin

How does one spell energy?

M-a-r-i-t-z-a!

I had the pleasure to watch Maritza's presentation "Express Yourself" and realized that Maritza started off strong and maintained the interest of the audience throughout the presentation.

Donny Raus

Maritza has the rare ability to communicate life lessons to others without glorifying or belittling herself. The result? Those who learn from Maritza and take her success strategies to the street achieve greater leadership, speaking, and professional effectiveness.

Indira Moushati

Maritza Coscarelli is a phenomenal public speaker; she is also an influential and inspiring leader. Maritza exudes confidence, she is accurate, knowledgeable, powerful, and intelligent. She knows how to move an audience and effectively convey the message.
